Accessories for safe and accurate soldering at home.

Handicraft or hobby: the wide range of soldering accessories turns every cellar or workshop into a professional soldering studio. No matter whether circuit boards, jewellery or burning pictures - the high-quality soldering irons are suitable for a wide range of materials due to their different output of 30 or 60 watts. And because of course every detail counts, the "third hand" soldering aid fixes even the smallest parts securely - thanks to the illuminated magnifying glass, you always have a perfect view. If something goes wrong nevertheless, small mistakes can be corrected quickly and easily with the desoldering wire.
